

No one should have the right to call my home and annoy any member of the family with nothing more than Sales pitches. If someone wants or needs a product or item, they can get it for themselves.